DECEMBER NEWSLETTER

December is filled with lots of events and activities to choose from, plus holiday gifts to buy. In view of so many special events, we will have neither Art Camp activities nor Friday special programs.

Artists: In addition to showcasing your art at the gallery, this year we have purchased a table at the Grants Arts and Craft show being held December 6, 7 & 8th. We would be happy to include some of your smaller, easily transported work at this show.

Philippine community members will host and enact their Bayanihan Festival, a traditional expression of their culture, with dances, processions, costumes, and food. Celebrate this exciting and colorful event with them on Saturday evening from 5 to 8 pm on Friday, December 6. Many thanks to Rodney King C. Lisondra, GATE teacher at our schools, for organizing this event.

NEW SHOW: SNOWFLAKES.

The Art Exhibition Snowflakes will open with a reception for everyone on Saturday, December 7 at 1 pm. Recent snowstorms have inspired some of us, so come to enjoy our artwork as it celebrates the blessings of snow on our dry land!

On Saturday afternoon December 7 we will air The Nutcracker, a standard of traditional Holiday fare.

Notes from November: Our celebration honoring Muralists James and Blake Emroy was a huge success, as was Eddie Corley's book signing. Not least was El Dia de los Muertos. Over seventy people came to each event.

We have been approached to hold celebrations of life for families who prefer a creative setting to honor their loved ones. We are glad to host these. No charge, donations appreciated.
